

What Have I Learned During My Life?

That most learning occurs when apprenticed to an active senior.

That when we're in love, it shows.

That to live outside the law you must be honest.

That being kind is more important than being right.

That everyone needs a hand and a heart to understand.

That life is like a roll of toilet paper. (The closer it gets to the end, the faster it goes)

That under everyone's hard shell is a child who wants to be appreciated and loved.

That to ignore the facts does not change the facts.

That when you burn for revenge, you are only allowing another to continue to harm you.

That love, not time, heals all wounds.

That the best way for me to grow as a person is to surround myself with people smarter than I am.

That everyone you meet deserves to be greeted with a smile.

That no one is perfect until you fall in love with him or her.

That life is tough, but I'm tougher.

That when you harbour bitterness, happiness will dock elsewhere.

That I must keep my words both soft and tender, because tomorrow I may have to eat them.

That a smile is a no-cost way to improve my looks.

That while everyone wants to live on top of the mountain, most happiness and growth occurs while we're climbing it.

That the less time I have available, the more things I get done.
